

In the Morning

Refrain:

It is your love that awakens me with vision and with hope;
in your love I am free to live with courage.
And tomorrow will be diff'rent because your loving hand
will lead me to a wholeness that is gift for all I love.

1. In the morning as I listen to a new day's life within how I wonder what will carry me beyond all the fears, the insecurities, the work awaiting me
in my journey to the ev'ning of my life. Refrain
2. I won't listen to those voices of the present and the past that would rather I'd be held in captive fear
as I struggle for a freedom and an authenticity
which your presence in my life reveal to me. Refrain
3. As I walk among the faces of this earth it's clear to me how profound the bond of our humanity.
I have known compassion's friendship and its healing energy.
Let's invite each other to be truly free.

Refrain:

It is your love that awakens us with vision and with hope;
in your love we are free to live with courage.
And tomorrow will be diff'rent because your loving hand will lead us to a wholeness that is gift for all we love.
