

Just as Lovely

1. December is a time of joy, as everyone does know.
But on the twelfth, in early morn', a happening had come to one so lovely in her person, quiet now, in her new life of presence to her lover, just as lovely as before.
2. The shadows of the past still dance in colors warm and live, forgetting not the gift of life which always was her choice.
And now, no longer can we wait in sorrow's dreams to have her present and to see her person,
just as lovely as before.
