

Let Us Tear Down the Walls that Divide Us

1. Let us open our hearts to one another,
not afraid to be who we really are.
Let us tear down the walls that divide us,
and strengthen the bonds of trust.
2. We are called to be members of one body,
united together in faith;
we must work to build up the Kingdom,
brothers and sisters in the family of God.
3. May we look beyond the things that separate us:
money, power, language, color or beliefs;
in God's eyes, these things are not important, what really matters is what comes from within.
4. Sometimes our lives may seem barren, and we feel as if there's nowhere left to turn;
it is then, when most unexpected,
someone will touch us, and gift us with their love.
5. Let us open our hearts to one another,
not afraid to be who we really are.
Let us tear down the walls that divide us,
and strengthen the bonds of trust.
Let us tear down the walls that divide us,
and strengthen the bonds of trust.
