

Banana Tree

*Banana tree, standing
So tall in the warm sun,
With your long, arching green leaves
Swaying so gently in the breeze,
Like the graceful trunks
Of elephants, moving together in place
With ponderous feet, stomping
Out an inner rhythm near
As old as the earth beneath;
Can we afford to sit out
This dance?*

- brother Augustine