

Journeys Ended, Journeys Begun

Refrain:

Journeys ended, journeys begun: to go where we have never been,
to be beyond our past,
moments of lifting up,
transcending death,
rising in transparent light to the fullness of God's presence.
Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia.

1. Do not let your hearts be troubled: trust in God and trust in me, you shall not be alone.
To prepare a place for you I go but shall return so that you may be with me in the mystery of rising to new life. Refrain

2. Loving one another in truth, choosing clear the many deaths of going beyond self,
living in the spirit
of one who gave his life so that we might come to know how profound the gift of God in Jesus Christ. Refrain:

3. There can be no greater love than this:
to give our lives for others:
our joy will be complete.
I have told you all this so that you may find peace in the sharing of your life and know the depth of love to which we're called. Refrain
